A MESSAGE FROM THE FOUNDER

Church & Technology Summit was never created to be another conference.

It was created because I believe the Church deserves access to the same level of innovation, strategic thinking, and technological advancement that is transforming every other industry.

Today, churches are making decisions about Artificial Intelligence, cybersecurity, digital engagement, cloud technology, communications, finance, leadership development, and operations.

They're actively looking for trusted partners.

That's where you come in.

CTS brings together pastors, executive leaders, IT decision-makers, entrepreneurs, ministry innovators, and marketplace professionals—all under one roof for four days of intentional learning and relationship building.

Our sponsors aren't purchasing booth space.

They're positioning themselves at the center of conversations that lead to partnerships, purchasing decisions, and long-term relationships.

I personally invite you to join us.

WHY COMPANIES SPONSOR CTS

Companies partner with CTS because they gain access to:

- Qualified decision makers
- Face-to-face product demonstrations
- Multi-day relationship building
- Brand credibility
- Speaking opportunities
- Live product launches
- Direct lead generation
- Executive networking
- Strategic partnerships
- Ministry market intelligence

WHY CTS IS DIFFERENT

Thousands of conferences promise exposure.

Church & Technology Summit delivers access.

We intentionally designed CTS to create meaningful interactions between sponsors and decision-makers—not simply logo impressions or booth traffic.

We Don't Separate Sponsors from Attendees.

At many conferences, exhibitors are placed in a separate hall while attendees spend most of their day in breakout sessions.

At CTS, the Expo is woven into the attendee experience. Every meal, networking break, activation, and technology demonstration is intentionally designed to drive consistent traffic through the exhibit floor.

The result: More conversations. More demonstrations. More qualified leads.

THREE SUMMITS. THREE AUDIENCES. ONE INVESTMENT.

Your sponsorship doesn't reach a single audience.

It reaches three.

Church & Technology Summit connects you with pastors, executive leaders, ministry operations, communications, finance, production, and technology teams.

The AI Summit attracts leaders exploring artificial intelligence, cybersecurity, automation, digital transformation, data, and emerging technologies.

The Entrepreneur Summit brings together founders, executives, consultants, investors, business owners, nonprofits, and innovators.

One sponsorship gives your organization access to three highly engaged communities—all under one roof.

A MARKETPLACE BUILT ON TRUST

The faith-based market is unlike any other.

Purchasing decisions are built on relationships, credibility, and trust—not just marketing.

CTS creates an environment where sponsors become trusted partners through education, engagement, and shared mission.

When leaders believe in your company, they don't simply become customers.

They become advocates.

FOUR DAYS OF CONTINUOUS ENGAGEMENT

Unlike traditional events where exhibit halls experience brief periods of activity, CTS is intentionally designed to maximize sponsor visibility throughout the entire conference.

Extended exhibit hours, networking receptions, meals, keynote transitions, technology showcases, and interactive experiences ensure your brand remains visible from opening day through closing session.

More time together creates stronger relationships.

Stronger relationships create better business outcomes.

THIS IS WHERE MINISTRY MEETS THE MARKETPLACE

Church & Technology Summit isn't simply another place to exhibit.

It is where churches discover solutions.

Where companies launch innovations.

Where strategic partnerships begin.

Where ideas become implementation.

And where the future of ministry is shaped.

If your organization serves the Church, faith-based organizations, nonprofits, or purpose-driven leaders, there is no better place to position your brand than Church & Technology Summit.

WHY THIS SPONSORSHIP MATTERS

Technology decisions are no longer made by IT departments alone.

They are being made by pastors, executive teams, boards, and ministry leaders looking for trusted partners who understand both innovation and the unique needs of the Church.

The Tech Town Hall places your organization at the center of those conversations—where ideas are exchanged, relationships are built, and strategic partnerships begin.

This isn't simply an opportunity to promote your brand.

It's an opportunity to influence the conversation.

Executive Roundtable Access

Following the Town Hall, the sponsor receives an invitation to an exclusive, invitation-only Executive Roundtable with 20–30 senior pastors, bishops, executive pastors, CIOs, ministry executives, and featured speakers.

This is a moderated, off-the-record leadership discussion designed to foster meaningful dialogue—not sales presentations. It gives the sponsor unparalleled access to the very leaders who are shaping technology decisions within their churches and organizations.
